REPLY SPEECHES TO ADDRESS TO THE THRONE

The Gleichen Member Seconds Address in Legislature

The address in reply to the speech from the throne passed off with some fireworks, but without any very serious incident. The premier made no declaration of policy, and the leader of opposition made a bitter speech.

Mr. Stewart, in opening referred to the general sorrow of the king's death and the accession of the new sovereign. He congratulated the governor upon his appointment which was a tribute to his work in the field of irrigation. He had so prominent a place in his speech, and spoke of the benefits of the short course, of agriculture and the immigration policy. He referred to the brilliant career of the new premier while on the bench, and the province endorsed him without by the results of recent elections.

Mr. McArthur, in responding to the address, acknowledged the honor conferred on Gleichen by his being called to speak in the Legislature. His speech was mainly on agriculture, and farming was surely the great basic industry of the province. He suggested that more money be spent for the benefit of the farmers rather than for expensive public works, which could not be paid back after a few years. He paid a tribute to the lieutenant-governor, and said his election in Gleichen had been a complete vindication of his action in calling up Premier Sifton.

"When the question of the future of the irrigation project came up, the railway comes up," said Mr. McArthur. "I believe it will be handled in an amicable spirit and to the best interests of the province."

E. M. Michener, of Red Deer, replied to this in first referring to the leader of the government, and said he was disappointed in the speech.

The government should be answerable. He condemned the manner in which the business of the country was conducted. The present government was not a democratic one. He condemned the construction of the public buildings while the people were starving. The premier had acted wisely in calling him. The constitutionality of the appointment had been fully discussed, and he would not refer to it again.

He resented the innuimation that Mr. Sifton had resigned a judgehip to become premier. He said it was not in the best interest of the province. He repudiated the assertion that the business of the country was carried on in an irregular way. When the account was brought down, the fullest information would be given to the government. He had no fear of the result.

The premier in his reply said it was his desire to see a member stand as an independent now leading the opposition.

There were many precedents for his selection would be recognized.

The course taken by the governor in appointing a premier even from the conservatives themselves. "Not that I would like to take the Conservative party," said Premier Sifton, "even in questions of constituency. I quote this simply to show that they have no justification for the criticism."

The premier referred to the request by electors and the crowning of the new Gleichen member, and the forces of the opposition were brought out. Dealing with the speech from the throne, the premier said what the government would do would speak for itself, and would be endorsed by the people.

"And then the leader of the opposition says we should be larger than our party," said the premier. "It is very easy when there are only two or three men in the party, but the time has come when one who is twice as great as the other should be greater than the party or above its traditions."

The premier ridiculed the policy of Mr. Michener for loaning cheap money to the farmers, saying that it would injure the banks and loan companies. The farmers were always asking for loans, he said. All they wanted was a fair chance.

Alberta the best province in which to live, and with this end in view his government would be conducted.

Mr. Bennett replied in a very bitter speech. He denounced the premier, whom he addressed as "the son of a raving lunatic" and the self-sacrificing chief justice. There were 20,000 persons in Alberta all worth a hundred dollars on the dollar. He denied Mr. Michener was elected as an independent, but as a Conservative, with a free hand.

"I challenge the premier and the government to let me see the letters, etc., regarding the acquisition of the boundary along the Bow river and the east half of section 10, Gleichen," he said.

He also asked if the province had paid any money by reason of the A. and G. W. guarantee.

Also H. E. Malley, of Bassano, had been appointed a notary public.

New C. P. R. Station for Gleichen

Superintendent J. G. Taylor Believes Plan is Good and Estimates Will go Through Without Trouble

The Volume of Business Demands Better Accommodation

The Call has it on excellent authority that a new C. P. R. station will be built at Gleichen early next spring to accommodate the ever increasing business transacted here. It is also understood that the new depot will be separated from the freight department and will be one of the company's most modern.

Board of Trade has been working to this end for many months past and the members hope that the request for a "Number 10 Station" will be complied with as the business now transacted at Gleichen fully warrants a structure of this character.

It is now upwards of twenty-four years since the present structure was built, and although it has been added to from time to time, it has fallen far short of supplying the accommodation of the business transacted especially the past three years, which continues to increase each and every month. In fact it is stated that during some months of the year there is more business transacted at this station than at all the others combined between Medicine Hat and Calgary.

All those who have had business to transact here will be pleased to learn that the company is recognizing the present inadequate accommodation and will welcome the new structure.

Since the above was placed in type the secretary of The Gleichen and District Board of Trade has received a communication from Superintendent J. G. Taylor, of the C.P.R., Hat, from which we quote:

"We are preparing plans, etc., for a new station at Gleichen, to be erected in the early part of 1911, and I have every reason to believe that the plans and estimates will go through without trouble."

Calling of Mr. Rutherford and the letters, etc., regarding the acquisition of the boundary along the Bow river and the east half of section 10, Gleichen," he said.

Also H. E. Malley, of Bassano, had been appointed a notary public.

Indian Reserve Survey Well Underway

MANY ENQUIRIES REACH THE CALL

The survey of the Blackfoot Indian Reservation is well underway, and will be continued until the tract of land claimed by the Indians is fully surveyed. Engleher Wm. H. Wadell was in town yesterday to meet his assistants at the Bow River station. Wadell is from Regina that afternoon. When seen by The Call Mr. Wadell said he had been over the land and was now in the Blackfoot country where he had seen a great deal of the work he had worked over a great portion of the tract. He had also worked on the actual survey and had over a township survey; but expected the work would be completed in the fall. He will remain here to assist him.

Upon further questioning Mr. Wadell stated that the majority of surveyors, who had assisted him, had decided to take up other work, and he would be unable to continue the work himself. He couldn't say just how long the work would be occupied in the survey, but he depended largely upon the weather; but he is anxious to complete the work as early as a date as possible.

It is stated that J. W. Burr has decided to rent his heavy stone and may shortly take a trip with his family to the States, and may spend his winter there for some time.

Today—Thursday—a meeting is called at the offices of Gleichen, Mr. McRae, and Mr. Finlay, to discuss the matter of more registration districts. Electors should be given an opportunity to pass on the administration, and if they had that opportunity he had no fear of the result.

In his closing remarks he paid special attention to the late Medicine Hat member, Mr. Finlay, and said if he was as successful he did not think he would be.

Sunny Alberta's prettiest weather cold nights and pleasant days.

While returning to her home at Queenstown last week, Mrs. Syngle and her son and little daughter were thrown into the cold waters of the Bow River, by the horses becoming frightened and dashing and backing their vehicle into the river. Fortunately at this point the water was only about three feet deep or they might have been drowned. Slush ice was running at the time in the river, and she had to wade through it to make a change. Mrs. Syngle has not recovered from the shock of the accident, and it is evident that a heavy chain or bar should be provided at each end of the ferry to avoid accidents in the future.

We have much pleasure in announcing that Messrs. Gibson and Braund's confectionery company are to open in the Gleichen Opera House on November 25th. "A Bachelor's Honeymoon." This company comes with a big reputation and we are sure they will be well worth looking forward to. In next issue the full particulars will be published.

All contractors are now engaged on the success of the Hockey Club, on Friday, 26th November, is assured. Tickets may be obtained from any member of the committee, or from an emoji which should not be missed. All Gleichenites and their girls are to be with us, and we trust many more from different parts.

This will be held in hand at the post office on Friday for the first insertion in 10 per month, when the balance of the amount will be paid in advance. The money is to be used for the benefit of the club.

Shoes that Combine
Both Styles and Fit

Few men wear shoes, ladies only make shoes from pieces of leather. They may say that their leather is better than others' and that it is more durable. Most men never buy shoes simply because they have no idea that leather is a good and durable shoe underlay. And few leather dealers have ever run INVESTIGATOR.

We have INVESTIGATOR Shoes in the newest 1910 styles which will fit every man's foot (size 6 to 12) comfortably and easily.

Remember the saying of all INVESTIGATOR Shoe Dealers: "We sell the finest made leather—the most durable sole leather there is."

Don't trifl with a cold is good advice for the winter months. If you are ill be sure to have a doctor. There is nothing better than Chamberlin's children, it is safe and tonic. For male adults, it is a great tonic.

The Year's Crops in Alberta

The Ottawa Census Office issued a bulletin last Friday on the crops of Canada as prepared from reports made up to the end of October.

There are no figures for 1910, but we give good reports for nearly all of the field crops of the Dominion.

Potatoes, alone, indicate a partial failure, and in all the provinces there are complaints of rot in the fields and in the heaps for winter storage. The area is 502,232 acres, and the estimated yield 71,018,000 bushels, being an average of about 117 bushels per acre.

Hay and clover are computed for 8,015,400 acres, and a yield per acre of 1.82 tons. The total quality is 90.45 per cent., and the total yield 15,021,000 tons. Field corn is estimated to yield per acre of 5.25 tons, which upon an area of 217,900 acres gives a produce of 1,131,000 bushels.

Sugar beets are grown most extensively in Ontario and Alberta, where they supply roots for three sugar factories. The area in crop this year is 15,000 acres, which is a substantial increase upon last year. The yield per acre is 9.69 tons, total yield 155,000 tons, and the quality 93.18 per cent.

It is computed at the average level price the market value of potatoes this year is $32,160,000; turnips and other roots, $21,111,000; hay and clover, $10,710,000; field corn, $11,057,000; sugar beets, $87,000.

The report of fall plowing this year compared with the area farmed for is less than last year, but the report is made for a period one month earlier. The percentage of summer fallowing, compared to the same year, is somewhat lower, but increases are shown for Saskatchewan and Alberta.

As though an increased cost of living, higher freight rates, and similar ills to man were not sufficient, we are confronted, so the statistician tell us, with a shortage of women. Although there are more women than men in the census tables, the supply of girls and the material from which women are made is far below that of boys, and unless something can be done about it there will not be enough available to go around. There is another factor which is causing trouble, and that is content with coming in singles, they are appearing in doubles and triples, thus making for a still greater discrepancy in the two sexes. We do not pretend to account for this. We only state it as a fact. For many years the balance of sex has been with women. New England, we are told, warns with unmitigated females. Matrimonial agencies thrive there and a fine export business is done with Korea, Alaska, and other lands where men predominate.

As though an increased cost of living, higher freight rates, and similar ills to man were not sufficient, we are confronted, so the statistician tell us, with a shortage of women. Although there are more women than men in the census tables, the supply of girls and the material from which women are made is far below that of boys, and unless something can be done about it there will not be enough available to go around. There is another factor which is causing trouble, and that is content with coming in singles, they are appearing in doubles and triples, thus making for a still greater discrepancy in the two sexes. We do not pretend to account for this. We only state it as a fact. For many years the balance of sex has been with women. New England, we are told, warns with unmitigated females. Matrimonial agencies thrive there and a fine export business is done with Korea, Alaska, and other lands where men predominate.

Some one has figured out that the American hen in 1910 earns enough to buy all the silver and gold dug out of our mines, all the sheep in the country and the wool, and leaves a balance equal to the entire year's crop of rye, barley, buckwheat and potatoes. Or as a hen enthusiast says: She pays interest on all the farm mortgages, pays the entire provincial and county taxes of the whole Dominion of Canada; and then with the balance could give to every woman, man and child in the United States and Canada a year's subscription of two of our best farm papers and would still leave a balance on hand."

Secretary Wilson says that she is producing one half billion dollars annually, and she is a formidable competitor of wheat for precedence on the farm.

In spite of all this, chicken raising on a commercial scale often results in failure. The world's supply of poultry is not obtained from great centralized chicken plants, but from the small farms scattered all over the States and Canada, where chickens are but a minor consideration.

They live largely on waste product of the farm, the refuse of the house and whatever bugs, worms and grass they can scrounge for, and when the time comes to sell them there is no way of telling what they have cost, the price being purely governed by the law of supply and demand. The proceeds from chickens are usually "pin money" for the farmer's wife. A commercial poultry plant that has to buy its feed and pay for labor and compete with conditions often finds the balance on the wrong side of the ledger.

The mass of literature by those experts in "hen arithmetic" who have gone before really leaves nothing unaided. No subject responds more timidly to the touch of pencil and paper and yields up more bafflework statistics than paper profits in the poultry business.

The farmer isn't interested in the poultry statistics and calculations anyway. If a farmer places his mongrel stock with thoroughbreds, he will receive from 25 per cent. to 100 per cent. more for his poultry and eggs, with no increase in their cost of maintenance. If this is so, it should interest every man, whether he keeps five chickens or five hundred.

The thoroughbred stock will bring a better price than mongrels when the commission merchant comes around to buy, because he says so himself.

The J. A. E. BEAUPRE STORE is Ablaze with Excitement

THE PRINT QUESTION?

Mr. J. A. E. Beaupre bought 5000 yards of print at 11cts. per yard. He sold, previous to this sale, 1450 yards at beginning of this sale, and in his New Winter's Stock, consisting of 15cts. per yard. Beshears Bros. & Co. are selling the balance at 8cts. per yard. Does Beaupre gain or lose on the whole transaction, and how much?

Any person bringing in the correct answer to the Sales Manager may secure a web of this print at 8cts. per yard, each web contains about 40 yards. This is only by taking a whole web, as we cannot afford the time to measure and cut the goods in small quantities. This is a GENUINE BARGAIN

This is an instance which only happens once in a long time, and we want it clearly and distinctly understood that B-shears Bros. & Co. are going to Close Out this stock at whatever it will bring. You know, perhaps, as well as the writer of this advt., what it means when a Beshears' Sales Manager takes charge of a stock, to get money at all costs. They have no regard for a merchant's values

REMEMBER

Saturday and everyday next week, should be a record-breaker for rapid merchandising to the town of Gleichen. Come early and avoid the rush.

TAKE NOTICE ; Don't be led into the belief that this is not a Genuine Closing-out Sale for IT IS, and the prices here Quality considered, are Lower than you can find in all Alberta. The ferry across the Bow River has stopped for the winter and travel is now limited to take the bridge until the river freezes solid enough to carry teams.

The people of this town frequently have the benefit of amateurish in radio stations for news items they overlook. During the past week or two a number of canvassers have been here seeking orders and the people seem quite satisfied with the service rendered by simply asking to see their license.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Leduc returned yesterday from their trip to Manitoba and their first stop was on Bowhead creek. Mr. Leduc had not yet fully recovered when he got home and had to give up his business entirely. He deserves success.

Large quantities of Chinese and Japanese human hair are being exported to America, but is does not appear that the people of this nation are becoming light-headed.

Philadelphia exists its popularity as a point from which balloons start their flights for the balloonists who like to launch on Bowhead creek. Mr. Leach had not yet fully recovered when he got home and had to give up his business, which might prove dangerous.

This is an age of risks and perch, but there are some things we can always find time to stop and look. A balloon ascension, a dog fight, a woman in a bikini, a man or a man chasing his hat, however, never fail to secure an audience.

Ed. Dags came in from Rockwood last night and left the same day for his house in Chiopee Falls, Mass., where he will spend about three months.

The ladies of the Catholic Church will be holding a large number card parties tomorrow evening—Friday—in the Palace Hotel parlors. All are cordially invited to attend.

There are no means of merchanting about farmers sending away grain to market. This is to meet the problem of the grain market of these nations, as the prices of these nations are becoming lighter headed.

The question arises to get rid of the remains of a dead man. Strathmore is still awaiting our local Sheriff.

Mr. Keaynes said the body of a man who had been found floating in the river through a fire started by one of his engines on the 27th September, 1909. The body was found floating in the river, and the coroner inquest fixed the cause of death as drowning. The coroner's inquest was held at the end of the day, and the body was taken to the coroner's office.

At any rate some of them are dead, or three of them might be.

Day after day, week after week, and month after month, during the winter season they remind the trade of the need that the good old days of the past are gone, and their undercarriages, straw hats and sweater coats would be needed and used again.

This question task deep root in the minds of the people—although many have suggested as they read it, that it will be well to let the men go to work in the winter.

But there is only one bind, and that is all the time.
